Mysuru-Bengaluru flight stopped since November 2022

Now commuters prefer Expressway or Vande Bharat Express to reach Bengaluru within two hours

Mysuru, Jan. 31 (RK&BCT)- There has been no Mysuru-Bengaluru flight since Nov. 2022 (exactly from Oct. 31, 2022), leaving the sector in limbo. At present, the Mysore Airport handles flights only to four destinations — Hyderabad, Chennai (two flights), Goa and Hubballi. Even the Mysuru-Belagavi flight has been cancelled.

Meanwhile, Alliance Air, the regional arm of Air India, has announced twice-a-week (Wednesdays and Sundays) direct flight service between Mysuru and Sindhudurg Airport in Maharashtra from tomorrow. [See report on page 6]

Earlier, Alliance Air operated flights between Mysuru-Bengaluru connecting Kochi (Cochin).

The Alliance Air flight from Kempegowda International Airport (KIA) in Bengaluru to Cochin International Airport was diverted to Mysuru for the convenience of Mysuru-Bengaluru travellers and commuters to Kerala.

However, due to poor response, the operator cancelled the Mysuru route. Now the route is treated as a direct flight from KIA in Bengaluru to Cochin.

Sources from Mysore Airport told Star of Mysore this morning that all bookings were cancelled on the Mysuru-Bengaluru route after Oct. 31, 2022. Though the airlines operated well within the scheduled timings, there has been a lack of response for the Mysuru route.

Except for some businessmen from Kerala in Mysuru, there were not many takers for the flight. Even the Bengaluru-Mysuru section of this aircraft received a lukewarm response, sources added.

Airport sources said that the future demand for the Mysuru-Bengaluru sector is unlikely as many travellers will prefer the Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway or travel in fast trains like Shatabdi and Vande Bharat Express to reach Bengaluru.

"Flyers from Mysuru city will spend a lot of time to reach the Mysore Airport at Mandakalli and then take a flight to Bengaluru. By the time they reach the Airport from the city, they can as well reach Maddur or Ramanagara, cruising on the Expressway or in the Vande Bharat Express. Moreover, after landing at the Kempegowda International Airport, they will have to spend another hour or more to reach any part of Bengaluru city," sources reasoned.

Parliament Budget session begins with President's address

India politically more stable than other nations: Prez Droupadi Murmu in her first address

New Delhi, Jan. 31 (Agencies)- President Droupadi Murmu addressed the joint sitting of Parliament this morning, with the commencement of the Budget Session 2023.

The President reached Parliament House in a ceremonial procession. This was President Murmu's first address to the joint sitting of Rajya Sabha and Lok Sabha members after assuming office in last July. Soon after taking oath, she delivered an acceptance speech in the Central Hall of Parliament.

According to the convention, the President addresses members of the two Houses in Central Hall at the beginning of the year's first Parliament session. Her cavalcade drove down Raisina Hills along with the horse-mounted President's Bodyguards. She was received by Vice-President and Rajya Sabha Chairman Jagdeep Dhankhar, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla and other dignitaries.

In her address, Murmu said people of the country will have to make an India which is self-reliant by 2047, 100 years of Independence. "By 2047, we have to build a nation that will be connected to the pride of the past and which will have all the golden chapters of modernity. We have to build an India that will be 'Aatmanirbhar' and capable to fulfill its humanitarian duties," the President said in her address.

Erring Revenue Inspector taken to task by Mayor

Fearing transfer, officer promises to complete process — pending for eight months — by 4 pm today

Mysuru, Jan. 31 (RK&BS)- The Zone-wise Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Adalat held at its Zone-4 office near Akashvani Circle brought to fore the laxity on the part of a Revenue Inspector (RI), who kept a Khata applicant waiting from the last eight months to fix property tax.

As Mayor Shivakumar cracked the whip, hinting at the transfer of the said RI, the latter promised to act on the request by today evening.

Jagadish, who had applied for Khata in the name of his wife Mamata, alleged before the Mayor, who was looking into the grievances at the Adalat, and said, "It has been since eight months since I applied for the Khata and RI Paramesh has been coming out with lame excuses to initiate the process, forcing me to run from pillar to post."

Irked and visibly upset Shivakumar directed the Revenue Inspector Paramesh to inspect the spot and fix the property tax, on the basis of documents provided by the Khata applicant.

MLA Ramdas launches street vendors registration

Mysuru, Jan. 31 (SBD&DM)- In yet another step towards reaching out Government programmes for targeted beneficiaries, K.R. MLA S.A. Ramdas launched registration of street vendors of the Constituency for helping them avail benefits that are due to them under Deen Dayal Antyodaya Yojana (DAY), Deen Dayal Upadhyaya National Urban Livelihood Mission (DAY-NULM) and other schemes, at Seth Mohandas Tulsidas Hospital premises on JLB Road here recently.

Speaking on the occasion, Ramdas said that the registration covers street vendors of MCC Ward Nos. 49,50,51,52,54,55 and 61, coming under K.R. Assembly segment. Pointing out that the Government schemes help street vendors avoid taking hand loans from money-lenders at exorbitant rate of Interest, he said that identification of push-cart, street vendors and other small vendors will be complete in a few more days, following which they will be issued ID cards. Pointing out that eligible street vendors will also be issued e-Shram Cards too, the MLA said that the beneficiaries will be explained on how to get all benefits and facilities which they are entitled to.

Advising the street vendors and other small vendors to avoid knocking on the doors of money-lenders, the MLA said that e-Shram card holders will get interest-free loans ranging from Rs.10,000 to Rs. 80,000. The distribution of e-Shram card will be completed by the end of February, he added.

MCC Additional DC Roopa, MCC Zonal Officer (Zone-1) Manjunath Reddy and other officials were present.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

A report by the Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB) has identified 311 stretches in 279 rivers in the country as polluted stretches. According to the report, though the number of polluted stretches has come down from 351 in 2018 to 311 now, the number of 'most polluted' stretches remains the same. The most polluted stretches are in Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh, Bihar, Kerala, Karnataka and Uttar Pradesh. Maharashtra has the highest number of polluted stretches at 55. It is also among the States where the number of polluted stretches has increased. The water quality in rivers is assessed periodically and those exceeding specified levels of Bio-Chemical Oxygen Demand (BOD) are classified as polluted. Water in such stretches is unfit not only for drinking but also for bathing. BOD is used to measure the amount of dissolved oxygen, and high levels of it indicate that water is polluted by organic matter.

Efforts to clean up the rivers have not generally succeeded. Major rivers like the Ganga and the Yamuna are badly polluted and programmes like Namami Gange and its predecessor, the Ganga Action Plan, and three Yamuna Action Plans have not had much impact on these rivers. Thousands of crores of rupees have been spent on these and other rivers. Though factories are required to treat effluents before they are discharged into rivers, the rule is observed more in violation. Cities and towns also do not make adequate arrangements to treat domestic sewage. Pollution control bodies have plans but they are not implemented. Municipal and other local government bodies are the most important agencies that should ensure that the plans are implemented effectively. Only programmes with active involvement of communities will work, and so all efforts should aim at the highest social and popular participation in them.—In Deccan Herald

Man spends $2 million a year to regain his youth

New York: A 45-year-old American tech entrepreneur claims that he spends around 2 million dollars a year bio-hacking his body into regaining its youth.

First of all, if you're younger than 35, you should know 45 isn't that old, especially by modern standards, but Bryan Johnson, who once sold his payment processing company Braintree Payment Solutions to eBay for 800 million dollars, claims that his age doesn't really reflect his health and his look. Johnson says that he has the heart of a 37-year-old man, the skin of a 28-year-old and the lung capacity and fitness level of an 18-year-old, all thanks to a daily routine that he pays around 2 million dollars a year to maintain and refine.

Johnson started his journey to reverse aging a few years back and has already invested millions in both human talent and advanced equipment to reach his ultimate goal of having the enviable body of an 18-year-old man.

Man fakes his death to see who attends his funeral

Rio: A Brazilian man sparked the outrage of his friends and family after he faked his death out of pure curiosity, to see who would attend his funeral.

As an experienced 'ceremonialist', 60-year-old Baltazar Lemos had conducted hundreds of funerals, some of which attended by as few as 2 people, others by as many as 500. Recently, he had been thinking about how many of his friends and family would come to pay their respects when he died and since he couldn't really know if he actually kicked the bucket, he decided to fake his death and see how many people showed up to his funeral...

12 years, work on parking lot at Town Hall remains incomplete

Sir,

The Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has proposed innovative precast multi-level parking lot near KSRTC Suburban Bus Stand, which seems quixotic (Star of Mysore dated Dec. 18, 2022).

It is shameful, as the work on building a parking lot at Town Hall started in 2011 is yet to be completed and only God knows how many decades more it needs to complete! When we are unable (or incapable?) to complete one project for 12 years, why go for second one?

MCC is irresponsible in spending tax-payers' money. Residents are fed up with the way the civic body functions. City roads — without exception — are in worst condition and garbage clearance is an eternal problem. One of the roads in K.C. Nagar has not been asphalted since the past 16 years, despite taxes being paid by the residents promptly. Innumerable complaints to the MLA has not yielded any results. Less said the better about the Corporator.

Instead of wasting public money on new projects, MCC should concentrate on completing existing ones lying incomplete for long. They should prioritise road repairs than taking up fancy projects and waste public money.

The incomplete Town Hall parking lot work has not only resulted in escalation of project cost, but also made an eyesore.

Mitigate parking woes at Bus Stand

Sir,

Apropos "MCC proposes innovative precast multi-level parking", I hope the authorities concerned will proceed positively without any delay by citing various rules and regulations.

This is definitely a long overdue proposal, which will mitigate the current woes faced by motorists to park their vehicles in the Suburban Bus Stand basement. Only very limited parking space is available in the basement parking bay and it is a herculean task to park the four- wheelers.

With the multi-level parking becoming a reality, the glaring lacunae in the faulty design of the basement parking at Suburban Bus Stand can be resolved permanently.

Hope the authorities concerned will execute a quality work within the required timeframe and help motorists coming to pick and drop passengers to bus stand.

People must look at selfless services of RSS: M. Venkatram

Mysuru, Jan. 31 (SPN&BS)- Senior Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS) leader M. Venkatram has said that "People should identify the selfless services of RSS volunteers who rush to the aid of the needy in society and during natural calamities."

He was speaking after distributing blankets and mats to the poor, under the banner of Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS) at Gujarati Samaj Bhavan at Yadavagiri in the city recently.

"It is our utmost duty to respond to the pain of common people. Training is being imparted to RSS volunteers to inculcate the habit of service without expecting anything in return. Hence, they identify those in need of help in the society and rush to their help in a selfless manner," Venkatram said.

Since ages, RSS is involved in creating awareness among the youths to develop patriotic spirit, love towards mother and devotion towards elderly people. More than living for self, we should respond to the pain of others, that's what RSS is teaching its volunteers, said the senior RSS leader.

"Our volunteers had made preparations to distribute blankets and mats to the poor during winter. However, they were in confusion for whom to distribute. Now, with the help of local volunteers, they have identified over one thousand needy people and distributing articles to them. We have already taken up the service activities in all the districts including Mysuru, Bengaluru, Hubballi-Dharwad in the State," said Venkatram.

The blankets and mats are being distributed to the poor as winter chill is heavy in different States across the country. Medicines are being distributed to the people suffering from various ailments. Even for those in need of other help, RSS volunteers will be in constant touch and will take measures to arrange tablets on the basis of doctors' prescription, he said.

"RSS aims to provide services to people belonging to all sections of the society. All are Hindus including the women who have gathered here. Our main intention is to reach out to the people in distress," said Venkatram.

RSS Sangh Chalak of Mysuru Region Dr. Vaman Rao Bapat said that "The volunteers should see God in every deeds. All volunteers should develop the quality of rushing to the help of distressed lot in the society."

Blankets and mats were distributed to thousands of women on the occasion.

RSS leader Keshav Prasad, MLA L. Nagendra and RSS volunteers Girish and Umesh were also present on the occasion.

Trade Union opposes Government's move on conversion of ESI

Mysuru, Jan. 31 (PM&DM)- Strongly opposing the Government's move to convert Medical Services section of ESI (Employees State Insurance) into a Society, the INTUC (Indian National Trade Union Congress) expressed concern that such a conversion will severely inconvenience the beneficiary employees.

Addressing a press meet here recently, INTUC State General Secretary V. Venkatesh said that the ESI is running from funds that are cut from wages of over 45 lakh employees of the State. Pointing out that over 30 percent of the population is benefitted from this scheme, Venkatesh contended that the conversion of ESI into a society would mean that the Government would be losing a key department that bears a direct influence on the population.

Maintaining that the department officials and Trade Unions alike are disappointed with the Government's move, he urged the Government to drop the move, which he said was disastrous for the working class.

INTUC District President M. Anil, who also addressed the press meet, said that over 80 outsourced house keeping staff are working at Railway DRM Office and City Railway Station and they are not being paid minimum wages.

He further maintained that these house keeping staff (cleaning staff), apart from being underpaid, are also not getting other statutory benefits, which is disgusting to note. As such, the authorities must intervene and ensure that the outsourced staff get due wages and other benefits, he said.

State Railway Contract Mazdoor Union President N. Venkatachalapathi and leader Mahadev Ganiga were present at the press meet.

274 bird species recorded at BRT Tiger Reserve

Mysuru, Jan. 31 (BCT)- The four-day bird census conducted at Biligiri Ranganathaswamy Temple (BRT) Tiger Reserve concluded on Jan. 29 where 274 species were recorded by the volunteers.

Notably, in the 2012 census, 272 bird species were recorded in the BRT Tiger Reserve and now, after 11 years, 274 species have been recorded. Mysore royal family member Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar, who participated in the valedictory of the bird census organised at K. Gudi, said that after Amazon Forests, the BRT Reserve in Western Ghats has a wide variety of bird and animal species.

"After the Amazon forests, the Western Ghats are the next place with the highest concentration of biodiversity. The BRT Reserve can be considered an extension of the Ghats and commendable work has been done in conducting the survey," he said.

Recalling the close association of Wadiyars of Mysuru with the BRT Reserve, Yaduveer said that the former rulers used to come to places like Boodipadaga in BRT. "I feel relaxed and close to nature when I come to BRT and this place was close to the heart of the Wadiyars," he said. Yaduveer later distributed certificates to the census volunteers.

BRT Tiger Reserve Director (Project Tiger) and Deputy Conservator of Forests Deep J. Contractor said that the 2023 bird census recorded 274 species while 272 species were recorded in 2012. "We had given just four days for participants to register in the census this time and more than 300 volunteers had registered for the bird survey," she added.

The Great Indian Hornbill has been sighted after many years and two new migratory species were also recorded that includes Northern Shoveler and Northern Pintail.

Over 50 volunteers and 17 students took part in the census that began from K. Gudi and the participants were divided into 25 groups and a field survey was conducted across the Tiger Reserve. Participants counted birds on roads like the Game road, Main roads and Safari routes. The survey focussed on water bodies and canopies.

State Wildlife Board Member Malleshappa said that when world-renowned ornithologist Saleem Ali visited BRT forests in 1939, he discovered 139 species. "Thanks to the conservation efforts of decades, today we are seeing 274 species and this bird population indicates that the BRT Tiger Reserve is one of the vital biodiversity spots in the world," he added.

Mysuru-Sindhudurg flight serves no purpose: Stakeholders

Mysuru, Jan. 31 (RK&BCT)- The Mysuru travel and tourism stakeholders have said that the flight to Sindhudurg from Mysuru from Feb. 1 (tomorrow) is a futile exercise and a non-essential operation. They have instead demanded a daily flight to Kochi (Cochin) and additional flights to Goa from Mysuru, taking into consideration the route potential.

As an indication of the unpopularity of the route, not a single ticket has been booked from Mysuru to Sindhudurg for tomorrow's inaugural flight.

This particular flight will connect Hyderabad, Mysuru and Sindhudurg. IRB Infrastructure Developers, the operator of the Sindhudurg Airport, said Alliance Air will fly from Hyderabad to Sindhudurg via Mysuru and back.

The Mysuru-Sindhudurg flight will be operated on Wednesdays and Sundays and will leave Hyderabad at 2 pm to reach Mysuru at 4 pm. From Mysuru, it will reach Sindhudurg at 5.30 pm. In the return direction, the plane will leave Sindhudurg at 6 pm and reach Mysuru at 7.30 pm and proceed towards Hyderabad on the same day, according to a press release.

Currently, Alliance Air is the only operator from Sindhudurg Airport in Konkan region of Maharashtra, with flights to Mumbai. The airport started commercial operations on Oct. 9, 2021.

Mysuru Travels Association (MTA) President C.A. Jayakumar told Star of Mysore that the Mysuru-Sindhudurg flight is just a waste of resources. "This operation has been finalised without application of mind and without consulting travel and tourism stakeholders. People of Mysuru are not familiar of Sindhudurg and there is no rationale for introducing the new flight," he said.

"Instead, the Mysore Airport authorities and the operators could have reintroduced the Mysuru-Kochi flight which has good potential. In fact, the earlier Bengaluru-Kochi flight via Mysuru had good occupancy rates and tickets were selling under the premium category. Unfortunately, the Kochi flight is cancelled now but the Bengaluru-Kochi flight has been retained and Mysuru has missed out," Jayakumar added.

Mysuru's business, tourism and education sector needs additional flights to Goa and new flights to Kochi, Tirupati and Shirdi to boost those sectors. "The Mysuru-Sindhudurg-Hyderabad flight can be converted to Mysuru-Kochi-Hyderabad flight and this makes more sense and the route has the potential. Routes cannot be randomly decided just because the operators have additional planes," he said.

If the Mysore Airport continues to be off the radar, negativity will spread and the travel and tourism stakeholders dread that. "We understand that our MP is striving hard to bring the Airport to international standards by boosting connectivity. But once the travellers get a negative feeling about Mysuru, it will be difficult to regain their trust," Jayakumar warned.

President of the Federation of Organisations and Associations of Mysuru (FOAM) B.S. Prashanth too echoed similar sentiments. He said, "Mysuru needs another flight to Goa and new services to Mumbai, Pune, Shirdi and Tirupati. We are not aware of why this Mysuru-Sindhudurg service has been introduced."

HC bins Graduate Primary Teachers temporary selection list

Bengaluru, Jan. 31 (BS)- The High Court (HC) has cancelled the temporary selection list towards recruitment of 15,000 graduate primary teachers announced by the Department of School Education and Literacy, at the ratio of 1:1. Besides, the Court has directed the Government to prepare a fresh list on the basis of income and caste certificates of candidates' father.

Several hundreds of women candidates including Akshata Chowgala had moved HC questioning the temporary list of graduate primary school teachers prepared on the basis of income and caste certificates of their (women candidates) husbands. The HC bench led by Justice M. Nagaprasanna had admitted 90 such objections filed by women candidates, before passing the above order, yesterday.

Those who moved the HC had contended that 'the temporary selection list includes names of those candidates who had even scored less marks than them. When they enquired with DDPIs, it came to know that the names of married candidates who had filed the income and caste certificates of their father than their husbands' income and caste certificates had been omitted from the list and included under General Category.'

Senior Advocate Shashikiran Shetty, who had argued on behalf of such women candidates, had stated that "It was incorrect to classify such candidates under General Category without informing them. Moreover, the demand to file application attached with income and caste certificates of husband is against the law. Hence, the temporary selection list prepared on the basis of income and caste certificates of husband should be declared null and void."

Background: Candidates who have launched a legal battle had secured good marks in written exam conducted for recruitment of Graduate Primary School Teachers (Class six to eight). They were eligible for verification of records at the ratio of 1:2. However, the Department of School Education and Literacy had not come out with any response. But, their names were not found in the temporary selection list prepared on the basis of ratio of 1:1 on Nov.18, 2022. Questioning the same, women candidates had moved HC.

Legal Opinion

Commissioner of Department of School Education and Literacy Dr. R. Vishal said that "In the wake of High Court order, the Department has decided to seek legal opinion. Selection list has been announced in compliance with existing norms followed by the Department since 1986. Hence, the next move will be decided only after going through the order copy of HC."

Parliament Budget session begins

"In the nearly nine years of my government, the people of India have witnessed many positive changes for the first time. The biggest change has happened that today the confidence of every Indian is on top and the world has changed its view of India," President Murmu said.

Today, through this session, I express my gratitude to the countrymen that they have elected a stable government for two consecutive terms. My government always kept the country's interest paramount, and showed the will to completely change the policy-strategy," the President said.

Murmu also said this 25-year period of Amritkal is golden century of independence and the period of building a developed India. "These 25 years are for all of us and for every citizen of the country to show the culmination of our duties," she said.

On the government's fight against corruption, Murmu said, "My government is of the clear opinion that corruption is the biggest enemy of democracy and social justice. That's why a continuous fight against corruption is going on for the past years. We have ensured that honesty will be respected in the system."

Earlier, there was a long wait for the tax refund. Today, the refund is received within a few days of filing the ITR. Today, along with transparency, the dignity of the taxpayers is also being ensured through GST, she added.

"From removing fake beneficiaries from Jan Dhan-Aadhaar-Mobile to One Nation One Ration Card, we have made a huge permanent reform. Over the years, in the form of DBT, in the form of Digital India, the country has prepared a permanent and transparent system," the President said.

Erring Revenue Inspector taken to task

Mayor Shivakumar also directed his Personal Assistant to collect the details related to him (Revenue Inspector), to relieve him from Zone-4, alluding to his transfer. The Revenue Inspector, who was also present at the Adalat, was caught in a bind and came to his knees assuring to do the job by 4 pm today.

Another grievance was related to shifting of two to three bars and restaurants located near Panchavati Circle on Kalidasa Road and V.V Mohalla. However, the Mayor expressed his helplessness saying that the Excise Department issues licences after considering the location of liquor businesses while the MCC only issues trade licences.

A resident of Yadavagiri urged the Mayor to provide water round-the-clock against water being supplied for 12 hours currently, besides addressing the issues related to Underground Drainage (UGD) in the locality. The Mayor advised the grievance holder to build a water sump to store adequate water.

Corporators Bhagya Mahadesh, SBM Manju, Ravindra and C. Vedavati, Assistant Commissioner of MCC Zone-4 Chandramma, Development Officer Hemanand, Electrical Engineer Niveditha, Environmental Engineer Sridevi, Assistant Revenue Officer Manu and other officers were present.

Next Adalat on Feb. 3

The Adalat was also held at the Zone-5 office of the MCC near Basavanagudi Circle, Hebbal.

It was the third Adalat held since the exercise was launched on Jan. 20 and the second Adalat was held on Jan. 24. The next Adalat will be held on Feb.3 (Zonal offices 6 & 7) and Feb.7 (Zonal offices 8 & 9).

March 4: New deadline to file for teachers transfer

Bengaluru, Jan.31 (BS)- The Department of School Education and Literacy has extended the deadline to file application related to transfer of Government Primary and High School teachers under the categories of 'request and mutual' till March 4 against the previous deadline of Jan.30.

A detailed revised schedule related to transfers under request and mutual will be announced soon, while all other guidelines announced on Dec. 26, 2022 will continue to be in force as it is, according to the Commissioner for School Education and Literacy.

Preliminary measures are being taken to consider excess teachers. The teachers can upload their details in Shikshaka Mitra software till Feb. 4. However, Feb. 8 will be the last date for teachers to upload or do corrections in documents related to their preference or exemption (from transfer). Besides, Feb. 10 will be the last date to re-verify the genuineness of medical certificate and validate the documents uploaded in the software in accordance with the documents submitted by the teachers

However, there seems to be many impediments in smooth conducting of transfer process as the annual exams of class eight to nine will begin from March 9, followed by preparing students for SSLC exams.

Guest lecturers appointment

Bengaluru, Jan.31 (BS)- The Department of Collegiate and Technical Education has directed Government Degree Colleges to newly recruit guest lecturers for the year 2022-23 after relieving from service guest lecturers appointed for the year 2021-22.

The temporary merit list of candidates has been released along with the schedule of counselling for recruitment. The final merit list will be announced on Feb.3, besides providing the details related to work. The subject-wise online counselling will be conducted on the basis of final merit list from Feb. 4 to Feb.8 and the selection list will be announced on Feb.9.

Yeshasvini Scheme: 30 Private Hospitals enrol in Mysuru

Mysuru, Jan. 31 (RK&BS)- With the State Government re-introducing Yeshasvini Health Insurance Scheme, a total of 30 hospitals have enrolled under the scheme in Mysuru district.

There has been an increase in the number of hospitals by four against 26 empanelled earlier in the district, till the scheme was disbanded in the year 2018.

District Health Officer (DHO) Dr. K.H. Prasad told SOM: "According to Karnataka Private Medical Establishments Act (KPMEA), it is mandatory for the hospitals to implement the health schemes of the Government. It should be included as essential service, as the Government provides Civic Amenities (CA) sites, water, power and other basic amenities to private parties (to establishment hospitals)."

Some hospitals are still reluctant as the tariff fixed by the Government towards providing various services under Yeshasvini Scheme are not feasible for them. However, it is made mandatory for any hospitals with 30 beds and above, to enrol under the Scheme, added DHO.

Under Suvarna Arogya Suraksha Trust, funds to the tune of Rs. 2,000 crore is set aside for the purpose of providing 1,650 various services under Ayushman Bharat Arogya Karnataka (ABAK) Scheme with 1,200 services already provided at Government Hospitals alone. In the case of Government Hospitals, the amount towards treatment will be borne by the Government by 50 percent, while in the case of Private Hospitals, it will be fully borne by the Government.

Citing example of how the Government Hospitals of late, are functioning with improved facilities competing with private sector in the realm, DHO Dr. Prasad said: "Till Sri Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Sciences started functioning in Mysuru, the State Health and Family Welfare Department, annually spent funds to the tune of Rs. 60 crore on reimbursements towards cardiac-related health services provided at Private Hospitals under various schemes in Mysuru district." Recently, the State Government announced to re-introduce the scheme and had set the deadline of Dec. 31, 2022 for enrolment, which was later extended till Jan. 31, 2023.

Santro Ravi back to judicial custody

Mysuru, Jan. 31- K.S. Manjunath alias Santro Ravi, who was in CID custody, was produced before a City Court, which has sent him back to judicial custody.

Santro Ravi

Following a complaint from a woman (said to be Santro Ravi's second wife), Vijayanagar Police had registered a case against Santro Ravi under the provisions of Dowry Prohibition Act, SC/ST (Prevention of Atrocities) Act and under IPC Section 506, 498A, 504, 376, 270, 313 and 323 on Jan. 2. Ravi had gone absconding.

Santro Ravi, along with two of his accomplices — 45-year-old Ramji and 35-year-old Satish Kumar — was arrested at Ahmedabad in Gujarat on Jan. 13 and brought to Mysuru in the early hours of Jan. 14 where ADGP (Law and Order) Alok Kumar had interrogated him for more than an hour.

Even as City Police produced Santro Ravi, who was in 14-day judicial custody, before the city's 6th Additional District and Sessions Court on Jan. 16 to seek the custody of Santro Ravi and two others for further questioning, the State Government transferred the case to CID the same day.

The CID Police team, led by Dy.SP Narasimhamurthy, had submitted an application seeking custody of all the three accused on Jan. 17 for further questioning and the Judge, who heard their plea, handed over Santro Ravi and two others to CID custody till Jan. 30.

But the CID produced him before the City Court on Jan. 28 itself and the Court remanded him (Ravi) to judicial custody.

'Self-confidence is key for success'

Mysuru, Jan. 31 (MK&DM)- Maintaining that having total self-confidence means battle half won when it comes to taking on competitive exams, Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy said that there are no short cuts for success and it is only hard work that matters.

He was speaking after releasing the study book for PC and PSI written recruitment exam at the coaching camp organised at Jnanabuthi on JLB Road here recently. Pointing out that self-confidence is key for overcoming challenges, Lakshmikantha Reddy stressed on the need for total commitment, dedication and determination for ensuring success in competitive exams. Observing that most of higher officials have a rural background, he said that young aspirants must draw inspiration from such officers who have come to the top through sheer hardwork and determination.

The College English Theatre Festival is one of METF's endeavours to encourage College students to explore the world of theatre in English language. A number of Colleges in Mysuru were invited to perform plays and METF received an overwhelming response and has chosen seven English plays to be staged during the Festival. METF will be providing the selected teams with an auditorium to stage the plays; make-up, lighting and refreshments for the teams.

About Mysore English Theatre Forum

The Mysore English Theatre Forum (METF) is a group of theatre enthusiasts who have come together to promote English theatre activities, for the first time ever in the city of Mysuru. Since Kannada theatre already has a good platform in Mysuru, METF is focusing on creating a stage for English theatre. Its activities include facilitating the production of English plays by providing the required support in the form of arrangements for staging of plays by interested groups and also providing directorial support if required. METF also regularly conducts informal play reading sessions and is in the process of preparing for a public stage reading of an interesting play as an experiment. Membership of METF is consistently growing and anybody interested in English theatre is welcome to join the group. For details, contact Seemanthini B. Sharma on Mob: 98864-57987 or Rajesh Basavanna on 94488-71815 or Dr. M.C. Manohara on 99012-25074 or Shashidhara Dongre on 98651-12667.

WORD OF THE DAY

Hoodwink

Pronunciation: HOOD-wink.
Meaning: To deceive or trick someone.
Origin: We usually use the word wink to refer to a brief shutting of one eye, but hoodwink draws on an older and more obscure meaning of wink covered in our Unabridged Dictionary: "to close one's eyes." To hoodwink someone originally was to effectively do that kind of winking for the person; it meant to "cover someone's eyes," as with a hood or a blindfold. This 16th-century term soon came to be used figuratively for veiling the truth. "The public ... is as easily hoodwinked," wrote the Irish physician Charles Lucas in 1756, by which time the figurative use had been around for decades—and today, that meaning of the word is far from winking out.
Example: "A financial advisor's credentials can be helpful, but beware—sometimes, less scrupulous financial advisors will use irrelevant or fraudulent qualifications to hoodwink clients." — Ashley Kilroy

THE ODD WORD

Haemal

Of, like or pertaining to blood.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

As happy as a sandboy

Meaning: Very happy and content.
Origin: American readers will probably be more familiar with 'as happy as a clam', which originated in the USA in the 19th century. The Australian version is 'as happy as Larry', which (probably) originated there. Other creatures that are reputedly more than usually happy are 'larks', 'dogs with two tails'.
The word 'sandboy' brings to mind images of a child playing on the beach, making sand-castles and the like. In fact, sandboy was the name of those who delivered sand to public houses, theatres and homes in the 18th and 19th centuries. Children were used in that trade, but most sandboys were adults. This use of 'boy' has frequently been used for low-status male workers, as in tea-boy, barrow-boy, house-boy etc. The use that the sand was put to was as a crude floor covering - a precursor to sawdust in what later became known as 'spit and sawdust' establishments - public spitting wasn't then reviled as it is now. The earliest printed citation of the phrase that I can find is from Pierce Egan's Real Life in London, 1821: "...appeared to be as happy as a sand-boy, who had unexpectedly met with good luck in disposing of his hampers full of the above-household commodity. "
